Muhammed Hacı

Frontend Web Developer

Helo, I'm Muhammed

I love coding and I like to see the result of my code on the screen. which I can create a website, make it responsive to fit all screens and manipulate all parts of the site. so, I specialized in front-end web development because I found It the best career fit my personality. My passion drove me to learn a lot of skills in my field. like, HTML, CSS, javascript, react and many more of awesome skills, which help me in my career. So, now, in industry, this passion remains with me. there is certainly more to learn, more challenges to finish, and more to build...
